Commerce Chamber
DOES THE HOST ACT

Fifty Japanese naval officers and 180 naval cadets, made the trip to Haleiwa today as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce. President J.
F. Morgan, Chairman L. Tenney Peck of the Entertainment Committee, and Mr. Wagner, acted as hosts.

The first stop made was at Wala-lua, where the officers were given a chance to see something of plantation life. Then the trip was continued to Haleiwa, where luncheon was served.

After luncheon, brief addresses were delivered by those present. On behalf of the guests, Consul-General Uyeno presented President Morgan with a silver medal, a souvenir of the visit of the American Commercial Commissioners to Japan. Admiral Uchida (thanked the Chamber, through President Morgan, for the hospitality shown him and his officers.

Consul Forster, the representative of the British government here, was one of the guests.

SENATE STILL

Committee of the Whole on Senate Bill No. 8, Chillingworth's direct-primary law. Various points were discussed and minor provisions were threwed out, but it was found that little could be accomplished pending final action of the House on Senate Bill No. 121, the general election bill.

Emmeluth, Dickey, Robertson, and Whitney again appeared before the committee and discussed the various phases of the bill with the senators.
